

My experience in the internship

Pablo Manuel Soto

As a person who is in the end of his career, I am truly happy to have realized this work experience related to my field of study.

I have spent very dynamic and stimulating days at the Internships, dealing with various tasks and projects and learning many new useful practical skills. From marketing activities through challenges of daily management to conference planning or working on the projects about Olympics Games.

All of this has been a one-of-a-kind training and a great asset for my future career.

One of the best parts of my Internship experience were all the conferences and events I had chance to co-organize and the people I was lucky to meet.

Having spent time with them and having been able to see how they are in the work, it was something unique and unmatched. Observing how Japanese people develop in their work environment is very different from how they work in my country; because of that I hope to carry everything learned in Japan to Argentina and achieve to put the same effort that the Japanese do when are working. Also thanks to these internships we had the opportunity to show at children from a school about our culture, all due to the very generous initiative of the Municipality of Chofu, which was always very interested that the children learn about new countries and feel the experience of being in another country different to Japan.

I believe that will be a very important at the time to do the Olympiad because Japan have to comply the high expectations that the world has for with Japan country as host of these Olympic Games. And I truly believe will be one of the most remembered events in the history of these games.
